just a word from Mr. Mac

Claude E. McRoberts, III · Senior Minister

Dear Children,

This morning we will begin a series on what we call “spiritual warfare.”

You have probably heard of “warfare,” or as we often refer to it as simply “war.” War is a sad part of our lives on this earth. Nations fighting against nations. How thankful we are for men and women who fight for us; some of those men and women are members of Trinity Presbyterian Church. We love them and are thankful for them.

But there is another kind of war that we ALL fight: young, old; rich, poor; red, yellow, black and white. As Christians we are at war with our enemy, Satan.

And while he is very powerful and very smart, we need not fear Him. Our Ally, our friend, the Lord Jesus is greater and bigger and stronger and wiser than Satan!

Nor do we fight our enemy with guns and knives and hand-grenades. We fight this enemy with prayer! worship! obedience to God! faith! yes, even taking the Lord’s Supper as we will do this morning.

And God has even given us armor: a helmet, a breastplate, a belt, shoes, a sword and a shield!

These are the things I will preaching about over the next eight weeks or so, Lord willing.

Praise God for His protection and care and love!

I love you,

Mr. Mac

MISSIONS

Around the World and Here at Home

Where Do Our Missionaries Live and Work?

The Illmans left Montgomery for the mission field last August. David and Sarah met while attending Covenant College and were married after graduation. They moved to Saint Louis, Mo. and while Sarah taught in a Christian school, David attended Covenant Theological Seminary and received his Masters of Divinity. David served as an intern for Trinity Presbyterian Church. After a year-long internship, David started teaching Christian Studies and became Chaplain at Trinity Presbyterian School.

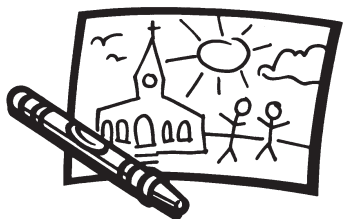

David, Sarah and Adelaide spent a summer in Cambridge, England interning with Christian Heritage, an evangelistic ministry. David and Sarah saw the need for evangelism and for the churches to be comforted, encouraged and emboldened with the gospel. David oversees the interns and their training. He also is building up a network in the area. He has been invited and participated in several apologetic debates

MUSIC and HYMNS

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord...

#247

“O Sacred Head, Now Wounded”

You might first notice the sad-sounding harmonies of this hymn. We say it is written in a minor key, and it seems very appropriate to have the words about the agonizing death of Christ on the cross set to this type of music. It speaks of grief, shame, scorn, and a crown of thorns in the 1st verse, yet joy to the believer. The 2nd verse states that our sins were the cause of his death, that we deserved what he received. The writer then begs for strength to always remember to praise and thank Him for His supreme sacrifice.

#498

“Jesus! What a Friend for Sinners!”

Just look at all the things this hymn writer thought about when he considered Jesus Christ as his Lord and Savior! In verse 1, “Friend for _____” and “lover of my _____”. Verse 2, “_____ in weakness”. Verse 3 says “help in _____” and “comfort when my _____ is breaking”. In verse 4 we see “g_____ and k_____”, “he my _____ hears my cry”. Then in the last verse we are reminded “he hath granted me _____”. Isn’t it a wonderful comfort that He is a Friend who is with us always—

“saving, helping, keeping, loving; He is with me to the end.”
